phone: 858.534.4220

CONFERENCE CALENDAR • SUMMER 2009

From the end of June through Labor Day, the campus housing and dining service facilities are used to host various conference groups. These groups range from sports camps to international seminars and symposiums. Typically, we will host up to seventy different groups with total participation exceeding 18,000 people. Having conference groups on campus during the summer provides an extension of UC San Diego's purpose of education and community service, and the proceeds generated by these conferences keep our housing fees lower by as much as $330 per student per academic year. Many of the conferees become more familiar with the academic environment here and gain an appreciation of what UC San Diego has to offer; a number of young people who attend our sports camps ultimately make UC San Diego the college of their choice.

SUMMER RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

6/18 – 9/7

The University of California San Diego Summer Research Experience Program is a ten week intensive academic research experience for undergraduate students who have completed at least their junior year with a grade point average of 3.0 or higher. Its purpose is to encourage more promising undergraduates to consider graduate education. This is their nineteenth year at UC San Diego.

NEURON SUMMER COURSE

6/19 – 6/25

"The NEURON Simulation Environment". This intensive hands-on course covers the design, construction and use of models of biological neurons and neural networks that are closely linked to experimental observations.

SALK INSTITUTE I: CELL CYCLE MEETING

6/19 – 6/23

6th Salk Institute Cell Cycle Meeting

Since 1999 the Salk Institute has held the Cell Cycle Meeting every other year, alternating with Cold Spring Harbor, where the Cell Cycle Meeting was initiated in 1992. The 2009 Cell Cycle meeting will be held at the Salk Institute in La Jolla, California, starting at 7 pm on Friday June 19 and ending on Tuesday June 23, 2009. Each session chair will begin his/her session with a 25 minute presentation. All other oral presentations (10 minute talks) will be chosen from the abstracts, and the individual session topics will be arranged after the abstracts are received. Other abstracts will be presented in poster sessions. The Newport Lecture set up to recognize John Newport's many contributions to the cell cycle field will be given during the meeting. As in previous years we expect that this meeting will attract participants from the large West Coast cell cycle community as well as from other parts of the US, Japan and Europe.

Topics to be covered include:

CDK regulation, proteolysis, DNA replication, mitosis and chromosome dynamics, development, checkpoints, cytokinesis and cell polarity, and growth control/differentiation.

UCSD JAZZ CAMP

6/21 – 6/27

Calling All Intermediate to Advanced Jazz Musicians!

UC San Diego Extension is offering musicians the rare opportunity to study with dozen-plus internationally-recognized jazz artists at the fourth annual UCSD Jazz Camp this summer from June 21 – June 27, 2009!

UCSD Jazz Camp provides a unique focus on America's jazz heritage by presenting students with the chance to explore a full spectrum of jazz styles ranging from mainstream bebop to open-form improvisation. We have brought together an extraordinary faculty of leading jazz improvisers and educators who will break down the boundaries between "inside" and "outside," presenting jazz as a continuum of options for musical expression. Students tailor a curriculum to their own interests by choosing many of their own courses. A diverse, one-of-a-kind journey into the world of jazz, UCSD Jazz Camp offers group courses and workshops, private lessons, ensemble participation, demonstrations, and exciting faculty concerts. All classes held on the UC San Diego campus in the facilities of the Music Department.

Intermediate to advanced musicians from ages 14 to adult are encouraged to enroll. Classes begin on June 22 for five full days of intensive seminars and workshops in jazz theory, improvisation, jazz history, instrumental master classes, ensemble performances, jazz composing and arranging, and much more. On campus housing is available. Contact us for details.
